Soft-Touch Garden Makeovers for Hard-to-Reach Spaces

Many homeowners in older terraces and urban homes have beautiful gardens tucked away — but no access for machinery, landscapers, or major renovations. That's where I come in.

I specialise in plant-led garden makeovers designed specifically for hard-to-reach gardens:

- No heavy landscaping or diggers required
- Focused on plants, beauty, and atmosphere
- Designed to be installed by hand, piece by piece
- Affordable, accessible, and transformative

Unlike generic remote design services, I work with real knowledge of UK soil, light, and seasonal rhythms. Your planting plan is tailored not just to your garden — but to your UK climate zone, your conditions, and your lifestyle.

What's Included (Remote Plan – from £495):

- Personalised planting plan & layout
- Advice on soil improvement and plant care
- Simple guidance for sourcing plants and compost
- Designed based on your site photos, measurements, and preferences
- Delivered via email as a ready-to-use PDF

Prefer an in-person consultation?

On-site visits in London are available starting from an additional £270, which includes travel from the Midlands and up to 120 minutes of consultation. This can be booked on its own or as an add-on to your planting plan.

Prices exclude: plants, compost, garden tools, delivery charges, and planting/labour, etc.

- 3D visual preview of your future garden
- Step-by-step contractor instructions
- Aftercare advice and seasonal structure

It's perfect for clients who want to redesign their whole space—especially those planning future access or gradual upgrades.

 Let your garden evolve with you.

Why work with a Garden Designer?

Designing a garden is about more than just choosing plants — it's about crafting a space that thrives. Every garden has unique conditions (soil type, sunlight, water, wind exposure), and selecting the right plants requires expert knowledge and years of experience. A well-designed garden saves you time, money, and stress, providing lasting beauty without the frustration of trial and error.

I provide expert design plans and planting schedules to guide contractors in bringing your vision to life.
